Story of Susie the Duck

In 1948, a country mallard settled in downtown Lodi.

She laid her eggs in the masonry flower basket that you see perched in the waters of Spring Creek next to our restaurant. The duck endeared herself to the community and visitors. She was named "Susie" by Lodi Police Chief Will Breunig's granddaughter. Susie faithfully returned to her flower basket raising two clutches of eggs each year and attracting national media attention. Over the years, many "Susies" have continued to nest and hatch ducklings in this basket.

Lodi hosts an annual Susie the Duck Day celebration each August.
